IMPROVED ROADS

In Ohio, the farmer and the road builder are working on common ground as this state prepares to build five miles of roads constructed of a type of pavement called "soil cement". They have been experimenting for two years to see if mixing cement with native soil, rather than higher priced sand and gravel, might work. This is to be used for secondary roads and if laboratory tests are right, will work successfully. One of the pieces of the rural mail carriers is for the improvement of America's 1,550,000 miles of weather-torn dirt roads. Perhaps if this attempt in Ohio is satisfactory, there will be increased building of "farm to market" roads.

JUNK THEM

There is a police judge who has worked out a system for punishing traffic violators and reckless and intoxicated motorists. He finds that junking has been the most efficient way of removing more than 500 dangerous and dilapidated cars from the streets and highways. It also cuts down in law violation. The policy of junking these cars, when drivers are found to be using such cars, is a safeguard to other motorists. It is a step forward in our battle for traffic safety. There are few of these old dilapidated models worth more than $10 or $15 and a junk dealer will pay about that much for them.

THROW IT AWAY

You have heard of the Chicago dentist who attached dollar bills to his teeth and dropped them from his office window into the street. You see he was working on the principle that prosperity could be coaxed back into being if folks would throw money away. It was sucker bait. Now most of us can't afford to cast ten dollar bills from office windows, and if we could, there would be some kind of soul who would see that we were put in the proper institution. Most folks have been reared with the saving for a rainy day, in mind, and the idea of courting prosperity by spending widely, hasn't proved its worth to us.

NO BACKSLIDING?

Whenever you hear someone boast of their pet's pedigree and its fancy forebears, you sort of feel sorry for the mutt that just grew up, for no reason. But consider the English non-pedigree cow who has beaten the world's milk yield for twenty-nine days short of a year. The amount was 38,615 pounds of milk. And no pedigree!

This cow, a little red one named "Cherry", is between eight and nine years old. She has had five calves and the owner of Cherry hopes one of the new babies will live to break a record. And they someone will go up with a song of pedigree and Cherry will feed called upon to produce ancestors from the MacFlosser, and spoil the whole thing.

We Quote . . . .

from The Everglades News and
The Belle Glade News of Friday, July 21, 1939:

More Farmers To Till Sand Land

According to Louis Weiman, who with Luther Jones, also a Glades farmer, is developing a section of sand land between Stuart and Port Mayaca adjacent to the State Highway several large Glades growers are entering vegetable operations there next season.

Mr. Weiman stated that certain existing advantages over the muck lands in the production of certain vegetables has made the area one of great potential development. He said that a number of Glades farmers intend to farm both on the muck and on the sand land in order to produce growing seasons and enlarge the variety of vegetables successfully produced. He also stated that tomatoes can be better produced on the sand, giving a farmer a more marketable variety.

Now . . .

is the time to secure acreage in this fine winter vegetable section — close to the Everglades.

500 Acres

Of This Sand Land Still Available.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Farmers and cattlemen of four south Florida counties — Glades, Hendry, Lee and Charlotte — took time out last week for a "banging-up celebration" and with good reason. For the occasion was the opening of the fine new State Livestock and Produce Market at LaBelle.

Coming from every nook and cranny of the backwoods and from larger cities as well, close to 7,000 people assembled into Hendry County's county seat on all day party that proved the biggest event in the town's history.

Everyone was in a holiday mood. Cowhands in high-bred boots and tan gallop hats mingled with city slickers in white shirts and Panama hats; men, women and children all joined in the celebration.

The hunger of the multitude was appeased with an old-time barbecue and fourteen beavers were sacrificed on the altar of hospitality and goodwill. "Those responsible for arranging the party deserve a lot of credit for they certainly did a marvellous job and as a local community LaBelle earned an enviable reputation."

And a generous share of this credit goes personally to W. C. Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the man behind the gun, who acted as Master of Ceremonies and was largely responsible for arranging the excellent program for the auspicious occasion. Both Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Director of State Markets William L. Wilson attended the affair and did many other dignitaries, including State Treasurer W. V. Knott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Colin English, State Senator Henry G. Murphy, and Representatives Elbert L. Stewart and Greg Strayhorn. State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Fluke, and others.

Commissioner Mayo, as "Daddy of the State Markets," explained the plan and purpose behind the farmers' market set-up and told his listeners that the state had fulfilled its promise in providing the market and now it was up to the farmers and cattlemen of the territory it served to make it a success.

William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets, pronounced the LaBelle opening one of the most successful he had witnessed and expressed the opinion that it represented a great step forward in securing permanent prosperity for this wonderful cattle producing area of south Florida.

Others on the speaking program included W. V. Knott, Colin English, H. G. Murphy, L. M. Fluke, Representatives Stewart and Strayhorn, Doyle Christon and Dr. A. P. Spencer.

The big event of the day, of course, was the auction sale at which 282 head of calves, cows and steers and 14 head of horses were sold. Cattlemen and farmers of the section pocketed $50,000 on cattle sales while the horses went under the hammer at an even $10,000, making the total for the day's sale close to $70,000.

"So great was the jam around the market during the sale that several buyers were unable to get to the cattle pens or auction room. The good ladies of the LaBelle Woman's Club worked themselves into a lather pushing out soft drinks and ice cream from day-light to well after dark, and noted over $400 for their new Club House fund."

Altogether it was a great party and one that LaBelle and Hendry county will long remember.

The successful operation of state markets in Florida has caused this state to become a model for the nation and agricultural surplus from many other states have come here to commit Nathan Mayo and William Wilson concerning their set-up and operation.

In recognition of their value to the farmer, the Federal government is preparing to cooperate with these states that adopt the plan, and provide such markets throughout their agricultural areas, and this action by the Federal government was brought about largely through the remarkable results achieved in Florida.

PISCATORIAL PATTTER

About Those Who Try To Outwit The Flimy Tribe In Lake Okechobee and Other South Florida Fishing Spots

Harry Johnson, of the Independent Market Johnson's, was gone all day Tuesday. He spent the whole day fishing—something unusual for him. He brought back one mud fish—a small one, at that. But, they were hitting hard, said Johnson. They hit so hard that the cyprine trees shook in a radius of 30 yards. My, my!

Hubert Chamberline, James Hall and Jack Keese, all over-worked farming operators, took off for a deep-sea fishing expedition Wednesday. It is not known what particular species they might kill.

W. B. Weeks, Oh, you remember him? The "instructor" in Betzner's contest, came out of voluntary retirement Wednesday and took a pupil with him to the Blue Cypress. The pupil is understood to be "Red" Gurkin, tonorial and piscatorial artist. We trust the instruction Weeks intends to give out will have some practical results, but we doubt it.

H. C. Warren, the inventive mechanic at Al Kitchin's garage has got the "real thing" for comfort. Lazy Warren toiled up a large umbrella and attached it to his rowboat. The umbrella is a good deal larger than the boat. Now he trolls in comfort but is undecided as yet where he will land his boat if a good breeze springs up and floats his "umbrella boat" off of the lake. He captured an 8 pound, 2 ounce black bass in the comfortable rig this week. It's leading the field to date this week so maybe he's got something there after all. The wonderful beauty was snagged in the dike rim canal near Belle Glade.

Last week's winner was Eugene Hatcher, Kiloree man, who struggled up to Betzner's with a 5 pound, 14 ounce unlabeled specimen. Hatcher, it will be remembered, doesn't do much fishing.

NEW PATENTED PROCESS TURNS SUGAR TO RUBBER

A chemist by the name of Ernest Kleber of Lausanne, Switzerland has patented a process to make rubber out of sugar. Kleber says the process of turning sugar either cane or beet, can readily be accomplished, and that about 75 to 80 per cent as much rubber can be manufactured as the weight of the sugar from which the rubber is manufactured.

In the opinion of Ernest Le Janick, executive director of the Louisiana state department of commerce and industry, this discovery by Kleber, contains the hope of salvation for the sugar industry.

Chemists say that there is a possibility of the manufacture of rubber from blackstrap molasses or from syrup.

The rubber manufactured from sugar is said to have all the physical and chemical properties of natural plantation rubber.

If this invention proves satisfactory commercially, it might mean the vast increase of the sugar industry in Florida and Louisiana. Florida's Everglades can produce many, many times as much sugar as it is now producing.

owing to the control policy of the United States government, which only gives a small part of the sugar market to the producers of Florida, allowing Cuba, Hawaii and the Philippines to have the major part of the market.

The leaders in the Florida sugar industry say that the Florida Everglades, if given a chance can produce all the sugar needed under past conditions in the United States and can beat the price paid foreign producers, if it was but allowed to go ahead and produce to capacity. This would give employment to hundreds of thousands of people. The new discovery may mean the greater development of the Florida sugar industry.

FROM THE WASTEBASKET

A few weeks ago I used one of your typewriters. At first I was pleased, but not for long. You see, the trouble in this Xxyxyx I want an X I get an X. Now this is getting awfully bad. Because when I want an X I want an X, not an X. This is enough to make anyone's mind. How would you like to get an X xxyxyx then you want an X. An X is an X, not an X. Do you see what I mean?

What I would like to know is, if you will give me a typewriter that does not make an X when I want an X. Because if you give me another typewriter that makes an X when I want an X, you can have the damn thing back with all its X's. An X is all right with me, but an X-X is all right. ## Here's What—

The 1938 act instructed the administration to exempt such plants located within the area of production. This term was construed in such a way that relatively few of Florida's citrus packers, growers, canner plants or storage concerns obtained the exemption.

Acting on the advice of Attorneys and ethics, the citrus industry took its case to the federal courts. District Judge Alexander granted an injunction which prohibited enforcement of the law against a large block of the processing industry.

Florida congressmen failed to obtain congressional consent to release citrus growers for losses of fruit which resulted from the agriculture department's campaign to eradicate the Mediterranean fruit fly ten years ago.

A study board reported several months ago the campaign cost citrus growers more than $7,000,000 but Secretary Wallcut did not support indemnification and the bill to authorize growers to sue the government was dropped. Floridaians said they would attempt to pass them in January.

As usual, Florida had a long list of projects in the appropriation and authorization bill for rivers and harbors.

Senator American continued his effort to reorganize the judiciary, partially on the purpose of giving all sections representation on the supreme court. As Florida member of the reorganization committee, he said the Jacksonville-Altoona road over the air but he was carefully avoiding the subject. He comes up for re-election next year.

Senator Pepper, ardent New Dealer, lost a senate fight for big relief appropriations for unemployed men. He has been mentioned as a vice presidential possibility. He urged passage for the aid to help for crippled children, government bonds to little business, and a new federal highway program. He lost buy on the appropriations committee, of which he is Florida's only member. Washington knows him as a booster of motherhood. Florida and a plunger for the Florida naval air station. As house paragon chairman, he was less of many capital workers.

FLORIDA SUGAR CANE CULTURE

That Florida, in the Everglades, can beat almost any section of the world raising sugar cane is admitted by most people who have investigated. The fight must be continued until now, to allow the people to raise more cane, and thus give more employment to labor. The operators of the Clewiston sugar mill say they do not need any protective tariff to help them. That all they need is the privilege to go ahead and develop the territory around them, and increase the production of sugar. It is confidently claimed that Florida could produce sufficient sugar cane to supply the entire nation with sugar. What we want is not to let our other producing areas, but to be allowed to gradually increase our output, and give work to many thousands more laboring men at a good price. Counting demands to stop discrimination against Florida sugar and vegetable growers will come this fall, bringing results—Southwest Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Risk and daughters, Margaret and Aileen, have returned after a visit with relatives in Kansas City and Des Moines, Iowa. William, Jr., who accompanied them, left to attend The National Radio School in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rader are visiting in Washington, D. C. and New York City.

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Whitman and Carlos Humphrey was solemnized at West Palm Beach, August 4th. The couple went directly to Miami where they will make their home. Mrs. Humphrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitfield of Moultrie, Ga. She came here a year ago and has been living with her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. J. Mark Whitman. During the past six months she has been employed at Lorraine's Beauty Parlor.

Mr. Humphrey spent several years in Pahokee, where he graduated from the Pahokee High School in 1933. At present he is employed with a contracting company in Miami.

The Ladies Aid of the Community Church held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. J. O. Ellis was in charge of the devotional program, her subject being, "Guidance." The songs, scripture readings and several poems on "the subject" were very helpful and inspiring. Mrs. Ellis also presided over the business session. A committee was named to check over the dishes in the church kitchen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Freeman have returned to Belle Glade after visiting relatives in Willoughby, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Boyd and daughter, Barbara, have gone for a month's vacation with relatives in Nelson, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Thompson and sons have returned to their home after visit with relatives in Ochlocknee, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. West and children have returned to their home in Chosen after spending several months with relatives in Bridgewater, Va. They also visit the World's Fair in New York City.

and finally reach the eastern seaboard through some other outlet than the Hillsborough Canal.

Our second proposition we consider would be more beneficial. It is, to continue entirely in the Hillsborough Canal from the terminal, as mentioned above, about six miles further which would connect with a fourteen mile, desert water canal that parallels State Road No. 25 from what is known as six mile bend on the Hillsborough Canal to the Palm Beach Canal. This waterway would pass through and open up a large area of good farm land. There is now being developed about four sections of land which will be planted largely to celery and produce tonnage in addition to that already mentioned, and we feel we are not over estimating the tonnage when we estimate that this section of farm land would bring the tonnage to ten thousand railroad cars annually.

By continuing down the Hillsborough Canal, as just outlined, there would be a large amount of rock removed from the bottom of the canal in its deepening process, and this rock is a very needed material in building farm roads.

With these farm roads farmers are enabled to bring their produce from a greater distance, thus increasing the tonnage.

This second proposition of continuing down the Hillsborough Canal to six mile bend would be of great assistance in the control of the water level in the Everglades, which, as we all know, is the life of our glades.

We are greatly in earnest over waterway transportation because we realize it means existence and life to our farmers, and without it we hesitate to think what their future may be.

Very truly yours,
Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Signed: Hugh J. Bratley, Secretary.

Hobe Sound Trims Pahokee Nine 6-2

Pahokee's traveling entry in the South Florida League race, went down to Pompano yesterday to get better than the cellar dwelling Reds. Pahokee, only a half game better than the lowly Pompanos, has not fared so well in league competition at the opening of the second half of the race.

Hobe Sound trimmed the locals at Hobe Sound Sunday by a count of 6 to 2. Pahokee batted out their rivals, 7 to 5, but loose fielding enabled the Sounders to score their winning tallies. Three errors were charged to the Pahokee aggregation. Stafford and the Boynton worked for Pahokee while

R. Brooker and E. Arnold made up the battery for the winners. South Florida League standings including last Sunday's games are as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
W. Palm Beach	3	1	.750
Clewiston	5	2	.714
Hobe Sound	3	4	.429
Pahokee	2	4	.333
Pompano	2	5	.286

During the working life of 50 years, on an average wage of $20 a week, says a London expert, the ordinary man will spend $30,000 on feeding his family and himself.

One hundred and fifty applications were made in 24 hours in Bucharest, Rumania, by young men anxious to marry without the usual formalities before joining the Rumanian army.
